MARKET OUTLOOK

Sugar worked today in a tighter range with a light volume following the financial market. The dollar index remains almost steady since this morning +0,20% @81,51, accompanying the monotony of the equity market spurred by the lack of news on this last week of April. Particularly in sugar the fundamentals keeps bearish with the Indian production pegged at 18 mm tons and could be even bigger and Brazilian harvest staring at full power with a 10% expecting increase from this last crop. The raw settled unchanged + 10 points on July, and the refined had -$1,70 on August contract. The white premium had a slight change to $130 based N/Q losing $4 from this morning.
