MARKET OUTLOOK

Sugar today diverted from the week pattern settling with gains on Nº11 and Nº5, following the equity market DJI +1,27, FTSE +0,56% and the slight recovery from commodities CRS +0,28%, the dollar too for the first time in the week worked in negative levels +0,52% @ 81,96. In both cases sugar and commodities the rumors are that the scenario are unchanged, that this improvement its justified by a pullback after consecutive days of significant losses. CONAB released today that the sugar production in Brazil will raise about 17% to 38.7 mm tons with the increase on the plating area and a drier weather favoring the production. The VHP NY settled with 43 points of gain on July contract and refined \LDN +$9,90 on August contract. The white premium settled almost unchanged with almost $1 around $128 compared to yesterday settlement, based N0/Q0.
