MARKET OUTLOOK

Sugar worked in a tighter range, under 40 points. From fundamentals it seems that the idea of a Brazilian CS crop pegged at 34 mm tons its very well accepted by the market,. The prices are much more stable when compared to other commodities sustained by a demand from end-users of physical side. Despite a common knowledge that the index funds switching's began today there wasn't a significant volume. The highlights we put buying specially buybacks that were entirely expected made the vol almost unchanged. The raw settled 19 points under on July and refined lost -$1,80 in August contract.
