MARKET OUTLOOK

Sugar today settled strengthened. The positivity on prices came from fundamentals and macro scenario. From fundamental side the rain on Brazilian ports still its making it impossible to load sugar, however on the main producer spots the lack of rain its harming the production what brought the market speculation that UNICA's report released on next Monday will be bearish on production. From foreign market dollar index kept melting working with over 1% of fall less than 83 points. The VHP settled 48 points higher and refined +$9,00 on October contract.
